From Secretary's Desk

Inspiration, uncertainties, and challenges! The academic year 2020-21 provided many unexpected events. The academic year started with many self-doubts and infirmities about smooth conduct of the activities as scheduled. As expected, there were intermittent lockdowns, frequently changing directives from University, AICTE, Accreditation agencies, etc. AIMS has weathered many uncertainties in the past. But the global pandemic and its continued onslaught on human life is huge in magnitude and caught all of us with successive and unpredictable situations. Yet, our institute has not let us guard down, even for a minute and has adhered to academic calendar and commitment to quality education in these adverse circumstances.

AIMS Team has completed all the academic activities such as online lectures, student support activities, written and viva voce examinations proactively and well before the university deadlines. Further, all the cocurricular activities were conducted without compromising with quality of the inputs. The extracurricular activities such as Intaglio Series and National Conference were accomplished by adopting online mode and attracted substantial participation from our fellow institutes and colleges.

Thus, the global pandemic has allowed us to realize immense potential of AIMS in grooming our students to be adept and perseverant so as to succeed amidst opportunities as well as challenges.

This issue of Timeline provides many such glimpses.
