DAY 1: Assignment

Q1. Please describe your position in your College/Institute?

I am a retired Sr. Scientist from Vikram Sarabhai Space Centre, ISRO. I was associated with realization Rocket Hardware for over 33 years. Currently a member of Academic Council of T.C.College, Baramati, Pune.

Q2. How can you contribute to generating IP through Innovation at your work?

ISRO assignments are basically innovation & improvisation rich and I possess an aptitude for research & innovation which are basic to IP. I also owned a patent for an engineering product in the field of I.C. Engines combustion improvement.

It is my conviction that there is always a scope for improvisation in every field of life and economy. Every idea is a potential IP. There is need to inculcate an IP culture right from home to every sector of economy.

Q3. What change do you see through your contribution?

Recently PCMC has asked to all residential societies to process their own wet garbage. Lot of entrepreneurs have come up with solutions. Most of them sell composting machines which have substantial running and recurring expenditure. I have designed and developed a process that has virtually no recurring & running expenditure and can be run and maintained by normal Swacchata Staff. We are running the system successfully and processing wet waste generated by nearly 300 flats daily.

In the case of original literary, dramatic, musical and artistic works the 60-year period is counted from the year following the death of the author. In the case of cinematograph films, sound recordings, photographs, posthumous publications, anonymous and pseudonymous publications, works of government and works of international organizations, the 60-year period is counted from the date of publication.
