Best Practice 01:

Title: Value Education to Students through Universal Human Value (UHV) Certification Program

Goal: Anekant Institute of Management Studies is a student centric Institute. Since its inception the Institute has taken enormous efforts to engage students in academics along with extracurricular and social activities. After Covid-19 pandemic, inculcating Human Values among student community is a prime task in Education Sector as we all faced varied and critical situations during Covid-19 pandemic.

Objectives:

1. To make students avail Right understanding, Relationship and Physical Facilities

2. to appeal to reasoning; and not be based on dogmas or blind beliefs

3. To be 'naturally acceptable' to the human being and there needs to be every provision in nature for its fulfilment. It needs

4. To be experientially verifiable, and not based on dogmas, beliefs or assumptions.

5. To cover all dimensions (thought, behaviour, work and understanding) and levels (individual, family, society and nature/existence) of human life.

6. To promote harmony within the individual, among human beings and with the entire nature.

The Context:

The Institute envisages becoming a socially accountable Institute of excellence which conserves, creates, and imparts pertinent knowledge and values to students. The value of an entity is its participation in the larger order of which it is a part. The context is always the larger order. Value has to do with the participation of a unit in the larger order. E.g. a piece of chalk is a unit. The classroom is the larger order for this unit. The value of chalk is that it can be used to write on the blackboard for the desired functioning of the classroom.

The value or role of a human being is its participation in the larger order. E.g. my role in living with the other human being is to ensure the feeling of respect in the relationship. Interestingly, I feel happy in fulfilling my role; and it is fulfilling for the other as well!

This value is worth understanding, worth thinking about, worth living. The value of human being is to ensure mutual fulfilment in the larger order[1], i.e. in the entire nature/existence, but starting from within themselves, then extending in their family and in the society.

Hence, to understand human values, we need to study the human reality along with all that is there in the entire nature/existence which constitutes the larger order. We need to explore and understand things as they are; so that we are able to recognise and fulfil our participation with them.

That means the content or scope of study has to be all encompassing, i.e.

- It has to cover all dimensions of human being – thought, behaviour, work and realisation.
- It has to cover all levels of human living – individual, family, society, nature and existence.

Accordingly, the content of Value Education has to be to understand human being, human aspirations, and happiness; understand the goal of human life comprehensively; understand the other entities in nature, the innate inter-connectedness, the harmony in the nature/existence and finally the role of human being in this nature/existence.
