Name of Teacher: Dr Tanaji Chavan

Respected Sir,

I have received opportunity to teach the course "Direct Taxation". In this course we (Teacher and Students) have discussed the concept of Income tax returns (ITR) filing and asked to register on portal of tax department. Students have registered their PAN on portal.

This experiential learning activity achieved following outcomes:

1. Students understood the concept of ITR.
2. Student's are ready to calculate tax liability.
3. Students able to consult about income tax planning as Tax planner
4. Students have developed competency to file ITR.

This is learning by doing.

Now students are comfortable and ready to file ITR of any client as like Tax planner.

This is for your kind information and submission only.

Thanking you.

Regards,

Course Teacher  Dr Tanaji Chavan

HOW IS EXEMPTION ON HRA CALCULATED?

The exemption on HRA is calculated as per 2A of the Income Tax Rules. As per Rule 2A, the least of the following is exempted from salary under Section 10(13A) and does not form part of the taxable income.

Actual HRA received from the employer or those living in metro cities: 50% of (Basic salary + Dearness allowance) or those living in non-metro cities: 40% of (Basic salary + Dearness allowance) Actual rent paid minus 10% of (Basic salary + Dearness allowance)
